

Terms of use

The Elmer the Safety Elephant Coronavirus Course for Students is published by the Canada Safety Council (CSC) – an independent, national not-for-profit organization. While strenuous efforts are made to ensure that information and recommendations contained in this publication represent the best current opinions on the subject, no guarantee, warranty or representation is made by the CSC as to the absolute correctness or sufficiency of an representation contained in the publication, and CSC assumes no responsibility or liability there-within. Information presented has been compiled from sources believed to be reliable; however, it cannot be assumed that all acceptable safety measures are contained in this publication or that other measures may not be required under particular or unusual circumstances.

Registered users of the course material are free to use the materials provided in their school environment and we request that any other users who intend to make use of the materials register and download their own free copy. While elaboration of content within the context of a school environment is encouraged the CSC makes no representation, warranty or guarantee of any such elaborations.

Registered Trademark

Elmer is a registered trademark and must never be copied without written permission from Canada Safety Council. The Elmer Symbol is not used to promote sale or use of any product or service. If you have any doubt about the commercial nature of any material or project, please consult the Canada Safety Council. The Council's decision on the use of the Elmer Symbol will be final.

Intellectual Property

All intellectual property and related rights to Elmer the Safety Elephant and "Elmer the Safety Elephant Coronavirus course for Students" remain the exclusive property of the CSC.

Contact Info:

E-mail: csc@safety-council.org

Phone: 613-739-1535

Website: <https://canadasafetycouncil.org/>